The Mental Health Center of Denver Welcomes New Board Members

June 4, 2008- Denver, Colorado. The Mental Health Center of Denver (MHCD) is announcing the addition of four new board members. MHCD is honored to add Curtis V. Smith, Rina Delmonico, Lisa R. Roy and Rick Simms. Each one of them brings extraordinary talents to MHCD's mission of enriching lives and minds by focusing on strengths and recovery of people facing mental illness.

Curtis V. Smith has been practicing family and criminal defense law in Denver since 1984. "People going through divorce or in trouble with the law are experiencing difficult times in their lives and I enjoy helping them make it through those times," Smith stated.

Rina Delmonico is the Executive Director for the University of Colorado at Denver's Center for Information Technology Innovation Program. She also serves on numerous corporate and non-profit boards, such as KBDI Channel 12 and CU Health Sciences Center Health ILAB.

Lisa R. Roy is the Program Officer for The Piton Foundation. She received her master's degree in Counseling Psychology and Counselor Education at the University of Colorado at Denver. She chairs the Tony Grampas Crime Prevention and Intervention Fund as a Governor's appointee.

Richard S. Simms, PC has 35 years of experience helping businesses plan their financial future. He is the owner of a consulting firm that specializes in tax, financial, and business planning.

The Mental Health Center of Denver (MHCD) is a private, not-for-profit, 501 (c) (3), community mental health care organization providing comprehensive, recovery-focused services to more than 7,000 residents in the Denver metro area each year. Founded in 1989, MHCD is Colorado's leading provider and key health care partner in the delivery of outcome-based mental health services.
